Interstate 95 Corridor Improvement Plan

You are invited to attend a meeting or use an online platform to learn about the Interstate 95 Corridor Improvement Plan and provide input on potential improvements.

The Commonwealth Transportation Board, with support from the Office of Intermodal Planning and Investment (OIP), the Virginia Department of Transportation (VDOT), and the Department of Rail and Public Transportation (DRPT), is developing an I-95 Corridor Improvement Plan as requested in Senate and House of Delegates resolutions (SJR 276 and HJR 581) adopted by the 2019 General Assembly.

The Commonwealth Transportation Board has initiated a data-driven study to develop the I-95 Corridor Improvement Plan which will (i) identify key problem areas along the corridor, and (ii) identify potential targeted solutions and areas for additional review and study.

You are invited to provide input on the I-95 Corridor Improvement Plan online or at an in-person meeting, the second in a series of online feedback opportunities and meetings between now and later this fall. The purpose of this second series of meetings is to solicit input on potential targeted safety and congestion solutions along I-95 in the Commonwealth. There will be a brief presentation at the beginning of each meeting followed by time for the public to provide input on potential solutions for safety and congestion issues in the corridor. The Commonwealth Transportation Board will take your comments into consideration as it develops the Plan. Comments can be submitted via email to: VA95corridorplan@vdot.virginia.gov.

The Northern Virginia meeting will also provide information and opportunity for input on the I-95 Auxiliary Lane project between Route 123 and Route 234 on I-95 south. The Richmond meeting will be combined with the region's regularly-scheduled Fall Transportation Meeting.

The online comment form will be available at va95corridor.org beginning October 7, 2019. You can find meeting materials there as well. Attendance at the meetings is not required in order to submit comments online.

The comment period will end October 25, 2019. Additional comment opportunities will be available throughout the study.

Public meetings will be held at the below-listed dates and times at the noted locations.
